

ALLEGED BACK WAGES OF $225 IS REASON FOR STRIKE IN TWO MINES

This Is What Howatt Tells District Attorney When Arraigned In Court--Says He Does Not Fear Jail Sentence--Is Fighting Only For Justice.

(By The Associated Press)
PITTSBURG, Kans., Feb. 15.—District Judge A. J. Curran, after hearing since 9 o'clock this morning the case of Alexander Howatt and five other district officials of the United Mine Workers of Kansas charged with contempt of court for calling a strike in violation of an injunction, adjourned court at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Adjournment came after Howatt had given some of his views on the Kansas industrial court and courts in general. He declared the industrial court was unconstitutional.

Fred S. Jackson, attorney for the industrial court, asked Howatt if he would obey the industrial court law should the supreme court hold it constitutional.

"I'll meet that when we come to it," Howatt replied.

Questioned by the defense, Howatt told in detail the reasons for calling the strike, which brought 100 men employed in two shafts of the Mackie Coal company.

He said it was called because the company had refused to pay $225 back wages alleged to be due a young miner with a widowed mother. He said the wage controversy had extended over a period of three years, Howatt testified, and he came to the conclusion that the only way to settle the dispute would be to strike.

Accordingly, he said, he made such a recommendation to the union's executive board and the strike was voted.

Fred S. Jackson, attorney for the industrial court, asked if the district board had considered that the calling of the strike was in violation of the injunction that it might end in a jail sentence for the members, Howatt replied:

"We considered only one thing and that was we were out for justice for this boy and his widowed mother at whatever the cost. We did not believe the injunction granted by Judge Curran meant that these miners had to be chained to their jobs whether they were paid or not. We believed that the injunction was aimed only to prevent a general tieup of all the mines, such as took place last winter."

"Did you consider that justice might be obtained without recourse to a strike," he was asked.

"We are not obliged under our contract to go to a court for justice," said Howatt, "to go to a court for wage settlements."

Howatt said that in his opinion, labor generally does not go to the courts for justice, "because they almost inevitably get the worst of the deal," and that the Kansas miners had not gone to the industrial court with their grievances because they believed the court was an unconstitutional body and had no power to deal out justice.

Would strike for $5 as quickly as $1,000.

"It is not the amount of money involved that we are striking for," he explained. "We would call a strike for $5 as quickly as $1,000."

"Are you claiming the right to violate the law?" he was asked.

"No, we are claiming the right to fight for justice."

"The operators think they can hide behind the industrial court and injunctions," he said, answering a question, "and we cannot pull a strike without getting that case."

"The state on our backs," he could hardly believe that in free America, this great democracy, they would arrest us for trying to prevent the greedy operators from robbing a widow.

Asked in an injunction granted by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis, forbids him calling a general strike, Howatt replied:

"I don't know. Possibly it does as long as the Lever act is in force. I'm still under $10,000 bond in that case."

NO AGREEMENT WAS MADE AT VERSAILLES TO CANCEL WAR DEBT

Thomas W. Lamont so
Tells President-Elect

HARDING CONTINUES
HAYS CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 15.—President-elect Harding today finally reviewed his cabinet decisions with his campaign manager and prospective postmaster-general, Will H. Hays, and received from a member of President Wilson's peace delegation unqualified assurances that no agreement for cancellation of the allied war debt was made at Versailles.

Details of what happened at Versailles in regard to cancellation of the ten billion dollar war debt was given to Mr. Harding by Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the Morgan banking firm and a fiscal attaché of the peace commission. In a statement after his conference with the president-elect, Mr. Harding said that he had been assured the president-elect his administration would be as "free and untrammelled as air" in dealing with the question.

Mr. Lamont's statement attracted particular attention because of his intimate knowledge of the Versailles negotiations and because his firm is the principal fiscal agent in this country for the debtors powers.

Continue Hays Conference.
Tomorrow Mr. Harding will continue his consultation with Mr. Hays and expects also to see Harry M. Daugherty his pre-convention campaign manager who is understood to be slated for attorney-general. Several other prominent party leaders are to be here later in the week.

Announcement was made that the President-elect and Mrs. Harding would hold a reception tomorrow night to other guests of the hotel which is their home here.

In his statement Mr. Lamont who came here at Mr. Harding's invitation, said:

"It is only fair to say that from start to finish of the peace conference President Wilson and his advisers, without exception, opposed vigorously and finally any such suggestion of cancellation. To repeat, there was no commitment, expressed or implied, near or remote, moral or otherwise, as to the handling of the allied indebtedness to the United States. Having said this I want to add that the president-elect showed as I have said, a keen interest in the whole situation and from his expressions I clearly gained the idea that when the time comes for dealing with these questions of international indebtedness he intends to handle them with an eye to the welfare of the United States and in a large sense of the word generally."

POLICE CALLED TO SOLVE MYSTERY OF MISSING WOMAN

Chicago Woman Has Been Missing Since Last July

RELATIVES SAY SHE "WAS CALLED AWAY"

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The police today were called upon to solve the mystery of Mrs. Nancy M. Chamberlain, aged 81, who has been missing since last July.

Mrs. Ruth Townsend and her daughter, Marian, with whom the aged woman lived, were examined today by police officials, but they did not throw any light upon the woman's whereabouts.

The Townsends formerly lived in a small Art Colony on the south side and the police have started inquiries among former friends of the family. If the evidence warrants the police said the yard of the former living place of the Townsends will be excavated.

Last summer when friends inquired for the aged grandmother they were told that she "had been called away." Mrs. Townsend admitted that Mrs. Chamberlain had gone away and said "mother is safe in love."

Questioning of the daughter brought forth similar answers to those of Mrs. Townsend.

TEACHINGS NOT IN ACCORD WITH TRUE CHRISTIANITY

Some Clergymen Have Fallen Into Evil Ways

MOST OF THEM LOYAL TO PRINCIPLES

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Charges that certain clergymen are teaching or permitting the teaching of doctrines not in accord with true Christianity or ideal Americanism were made in a report submitted to the National Civic Federation at its meeting today by the federation's committee on churches and religious organizations.

The report was presented by Everett P. Wheeler, chairman of the committee. Mr. Wheeler declared that most of the clergymen, priests and rabbis have remained loyal to the principles of the United States but a small group appear to have been affected. Some idealistic clergymen, he said are allowing themselves to be led into lines of thought and expression that are almost radical. If some of their expressions were carried into effect, he asserted it would mean the overthrow of Republican institutions.

Archibald Stevenson, formerly counsel to the Lusk legislative committee asserted that those who advocate unrestricted freedom of speech are those who either seek to overthrow the government or who are moved by sympathy for the convicted enemy aliens.

Resolutions urging passage by congress of the Longworth bill to safeguard the American dye industry against foreign competition "as a measure indispensable both to the national defense and to the hope of world disarmament," were adopted.

RAILROADS MAY CHANGE SYSTEM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—If the application of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad to capitalize its surplus is refused, railroad earnings in the future will issue their earnings in the form of dividends as fast as they are earned. E. C. Lindley, general counsel for the Great Northern Railroad declared today before the interstate commerce commission.

Alfred P. Tho, counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, argued that the commission should consider only whether the granting of such applications would injure the public interest.

"You should not go into the question of whether a road would be benefited," he said.

REAL PROGRESS MADE BY SENATE ON TARIFF BILL

Several Amendments to Measure Are Adopted

SENATOR WILLIAMS
MAKES GREAT SPEECH

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The senate made real progress in its consideration of the Fordney emergency tariff bill today and when the eight hour session ended, it had taken up and adopted four of the nine remaining amendments which had been recommended by its finance committee.

At the close of the day's work, Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bill said prospects were good for a vote tomorrow.

Among the amendments accepted by the Senate was the substitute sugar schedule proposed by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, for that agreed upon by the committee. The Smoot amendment would place the tariff at one per cent a pound in addition to the present duty of the same amount, while the committee amendment to the house bill would have added approximately three cents a pound to the present rate.

Amendments Adopted.
The other amendments adopted by the senate would provide rates as follows:

Butter and butter substitutes, eight cents per pound; cheese and cheese substitutes 25 per cent ad valorem, fresh milk two cents per gallon, and cream, five cents per gallon.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, alone voted against the Smoot sugar duty while sixty-six were recorded for it.

In joining with the supporters of the bill to put over the sugar amendment, Democratic opponents of the measure claimed to have won a point, which it was said, will eventually cause trouble for the measure's proponents.

When the bill goes to conference, the house refused on three occasions to add sugar to the commodities for which protection was afforded and leaders said there was no reason to expect a changed sentiment.

Williams Scores Bill.
Senator Williams, Democrat, Mississippi held the attention of seventy senators for more than an hour while he launched an attack on the whole tariff bill that sparked with wit, sarcasm and sincerity in turn.

Seldom, if ever, have as many senators sat as they did today, unmindful of other matters to listen to a speech of one of their own number. And Mr. Williams rewarded them.

The Mississippi senator declared that the tariff provisions, on sugar were such as to make any industry profitable, and added: "I can raise bananas in New Jersey. If you will give me a tariff on them, I'll sell them for a dollar a banana. That would be profitable if the tariff would be taking the money away from the other people to keep my hot house going."

Senator Williams, as he waded deeper and deeper into the arguments against the measure also moved across the aisle to where Senator Smoot sat. Mr. Smoot finally gave way and in the place from which the senate many times has heard preared the doctrines of high tariff there was delivered an argument diametrically opposed.

It caused a roar of laughter to precede the usually staid senate chamber, but did not disturb the speaker.

WITNESSES RECITE STORIES IN COURT —Reese Chambers Borrowed Rifle and Ammunition.

(By The Associated Press)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Feb. 15.—Thrilling stories of the Matewan battle in which ten men met death by witnesses who testified in the trial of 19 men indicted on charges of killing A. C. Felts.

One witness, Jeff Stafford, touched on the question of who fired the shot which marked the beginning of the fight. Stafford, clerk in a hardware store in front of which the battle started, said that he believed Sid Hatfield, chief of police of Matewan and one of the defendants fired the first shot. Stafford said that Sid fired from the doorway of the store and that he heard no shooting prior to this.

Outside the doorway, he testified, A. C. Felts and another Baldwin-Felts detective were standing. He added that it appeared as if Hatfield aimed at Felts and that a moment after Sid fired, the shooting became general.

Bill Hamilton, a resident of Kentucky, opposite Matewan, testified that Reese Chambers, a defendant, had borrowed a rifle and some cartridges from him a short time before the battle.

Hawkins and John Coe, trustees of the Co-Operative Society of America be restrained from selling the society's certificates of beneficial interest in Illinois.

HOUSE VOTES TO ASK PRESIDENT WILSON FOR ITEMIZED STATEMENT

Heated Debate Follows Resolution Calling Upon President to Show Allotments and Disbursements of $150,000,000 War Fund

Democrats Say it is Partisan Politics

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—After heated debate the house late today adopted a resolution calling upon President Wilson for an itemized statement showing disbursements and allotments of the $150,000,000 war funds voted by congress.

The resolution which was adopted 221 to 79, was attacked by Democrats, who charged that it was put forward to defame and malign President Wilson in the closing days of his administration. Reference to expenditures by the American Peace Commission at Paris fanned the flames on the Democratic side and turned the debate into strictly partisan channels.

Chairman Good of the appropriations committee who reported the resolutions introduced by Representative Gould, Republican, New York, declared that if any industry had been done the president the Democrats were responsible by attempting to create the impression that "there was something crooked in the money spending" when the resolution itself did not intimate that there had been anything improper. Mr. Good declined to offer an amendment calling upon the various government departments for accounting, which was the method adopted, Democrats stated, asking for an accounting of Spanish war funds in President McKinley's day.

President Not Concerned.
After the chairman had made a preliminary statement as to what had been shown by partial reports of expenditures, Representative Byrns, Democrat, Tennessee, declared that while he had no objection to adoption of the resolution he thought the information should be sought from departments to which the money had been allotted. The president, he said, had nothing to do with the actual spending that more than four-fifths of the fund has been accounted for, and that it was merely an attempt to make it appear he was unwilling to present the record.

Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, attacked reported expenditures of the peace commission at the hotel Crillon in Paris calling attention specifically to an item of $125,000 for damage to the hotel property. He said he did not know if chandeliers were in the damaged list or at what hour of the going they might have been broken.

"The acting secretary of state was unable to give details of the Paris expenditures," Mr. Rogers said. "Confidential expenses of the presidential party were put down at $17,534. Why should there be confidential expenses of a president to negotiate on the part of the people a treaty of peace?"

Says It Is Small Act.
Turning upon Representative Rogers, Representative Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, said:

"In the 14 years of my legislative service I have seen some pretty small men and some pretty small acts, but never in that time have I seen so small a performance as that enacted a moment ago by the gentleman from Massachusetts. It is astounding to me that a man in a great legislative body, supposed to be here for a great purpose should ask about laundry bills, and what time of night the hotel chandeliers were damaged, when in that building was the man holding the highest office in the United States. In God's name when will men quit this slander. They may differ as to questions of great policy but it never allowed them to stoop to denigration of character."

Closing the debate Mr. Good said the resolution was first introduced last May calling for expenditures and that the president's secretary had reported only allotments.

"The Democratic attack on this measure does the president an injustice," Mr. Good declared. "In my mind you have created the impression that there was something crooked, when no charges are made. Thank God it was not the Republicans who questioned the propriety of asking the president for information."

Oklahoma has done a generous thing in expressing state appreciation to wounded ex-service men. A measure has been passed providing for the expenditure of $800,000 to provide vocational training and hospital facilities for these heroes of the World War.

Alexander Howat has expressed his opinion of the Kansas industrial court and courts in general in no uncertain terms. Of course, judges everywhere, will be deeply grieved over this denunciation by the bolshevist miners' official.

"I am in favor of opening up trade relations with Russia," declares Senator William E. Borah of Idaho. "I am in favor of opening up trade relations with all the nations in the world, and of doing it just as speedily and promptly as we may." The remark was made in the course of a bitter debate in the Senate concerning Russian propaganda in this country, the immigration question, and the efforts of the Department of Justice to suppress un-Americanism.

With the total of the German indemnity definitely fixed at $55,-

000,000,000, and the dates of installment payments decided upon the time is ripe for specific arrangements with the Allies for the liquidation of their debt of $10,000,000,000 to the United States. There is no reason why this country should not permit payments to be made at the same time that cash is received by the Allies from Germany, but America must never consent to making the final payment of the Allied debt contingent upon the fulfillment of the German obligations.

An effort will be made to repeal the law passed by Congress several years ago requiring newspapers to publish semi-yearly statements of their circulation. Just what good the law ever accomplished has never been revealed. The purpose, it was said at the time the law was passed, was to show the true facts about the ownership of certain metropolitan papers in the east, papers that had been unfriendly to Congress. Newspaper owners who seek to conceal their identity have no difficulty, even with the existence of this law.

Still other petitions for city offices will no doubt be filed today. The primary election will be held March 8, and the larger the list of candidates, the greater the interest that will be shown on election day. It is interesting to note in this connection that at least two non-political organizations have already endorsed Mayor Crabtree. The Travelers Protective Association and the Jacksonville Automobile association.

It is a fine thing for Jacksonville that the affairs of the Pythian lodges are in such excellent shape and so large a degree of enthusiasm shown by members of the order. On another page of this paper will be found an extended story of what Pythianism is accomplishing and a description of the new quarters now available for members of the order. Those who know about Pythianism know that the word stands for the best in citizenship. The Pythian order promotes real fraternity and seeks to develop those characteristics which make for individual worth and the general welfare. Every true Pythian is an upright citizen.

THE GUARANTEE OF MERIT

An Editorial on Buying
The advertising of merchandise is the consumers' guarantee of merit.

In his advertising the manufacturer, over his own name, makes claims for his goods which must be lived up to. Consumers look for the qualities advertised, and if they fail to find them promptly transfer their patronage to another brand.

Advertising is a two-edged sword. It gives the consumers the advantage of knowing exactly who disappoints them. No one realizes this more keenly than the manufacturer. So with him it is a principle of good business as well as honor to make his goods measure up to his advertising claims.

Manufacturers, brought constantly before the public by their advertised goods, are usually men of high character, who make their goods as represented. But in addition to this, the educational force of advertising is such that the consumer is assured of honesty and quality because every reputable publication and advertising agency demand it.

When the consumer buys unadvertised goods, he gives up all these guarantees. He has no protection whatever, neither name nor assurance stands back of the product he buys. If it is poor, he has no recourse. He does not know who has cheated him. The dealer is only the intermediary. He, himself, may have been cheated in the goods.

In buying advertised products, the consumer makes sure of goods manufactured on honor. He has the price advantage that comes from the big market built by the manufacturer's advertising, which by increasing the output decreases the cost of each package or article, and enables the manufacturer to take a smaller individual profit on account of his great volume of business.

From every standpoint, the consumer is the gainer in buying advertised goods.

LOCAL STUDENT WINS HIGH HONORS

Miss Helen Hart a Student at Brown's Business College Wins First Honors in Bookkeeping in Competition With Other Schools.

Miss Helen Hart of Waverly, who is a student at Brown's Business college brought honor to herself and the school recently when she won first place in bookkeeping in a contest with all of the other schools managed by H. E. Read.

The Read chain of schools is comprised of schools located at Peoria, Bloomington, Springfield, Danville, Terre Haute, Ind., and Jacksonville. The home study school has been conducting a series of contests among the students of the various schools.

The studies included short hand, typewriting, figuring, spelling, penmanship and bookkeeping. On given day all the papers are sent to committees appointed for the various subjects and they are examined and decisions given.

In the recent contest Brown's Business college won the first prize in bookkeeping which was awarded to Miss Hart as heretofore stated. The competition was spirited and Miss Hart's average was 98-1-3 per cent. The contest was so close that three business men in Peoria were called in to make the decision and they were unanimous for Miss Hart. Neatness, exactness and accuracy entered into the requisites for final decision.

In the spelling Miss Hart won second honors. She was one of two who spelled all of the words correctly. However, each word had to be defined and her opponent who won first excelled her in this department.

Speaking of the contests Mr. Claybaugh said he had not heard from other branches in which the local school had contestants entered. However, he said that other schools had an advantage over this one because of having a larger teaching force.

Gordon Van Houten of Terre Haute, Indiana, has taken a position at the institution as assistant teacher in bookkeeping. Mr. Van Houten is a graduate of the Terre Haute school and is well qualified for his work.

GOING WAY BACK

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Everyone about here has thought more or less about Indians having preceded the white man in "the Illinois country," but how many have given any thought to what the ownership of this state was ever "— Since Marquette rejoicingly came?"

Then LaSalle, impatient, fearless, took the Father's idle oar" and they two are the first of our race who walked over the prairies or paddled their canoes through the wonder land to which the Illini and the French have given the beautiful name of Illinois.

And their coming was but a little over three hundred years ago! Tennyson said: "Better far a year of Europe than a cycle of Cathay."

What might he not have said of the year given so grandly by Marquette and LaSalle in bringing into the knowledge of civilized mankind the boundless prairies, river belted, and bluff defended of the Prairie State.

First, the Frenchman came and claimed this grand empire for the flag of France, France, which later should aid our forefathers in making us free from the autocratic rule of England.

First came the exploring Missionary, bringing the cross into our land, then the conquering cavalier, followed in turn by the "voyageurs," the hunters and by the friendly Frenchmen winning by their gentle manners the hearts and lands of the unsuspecting Red Men, doing it in gentleness and harmony not with the horrid brutalities of the Spanish, who exploited South America and the land of the Incas and Montezuma.

Then came the Frenchman came and claimed this grand empire for the flag of France, France, which later should aid our forefathers in making us free from the autocratic rule of England.

JUSTICE THOMPSON WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

With the adjournment of the February term of the supreme court came the announcement of Justice Floyd E. Thompson of Rock Island, that he will be a candidate for re-election to the supreme court at the judicial election to be held in the Fourth Judicial District in June. Justice Thompson was nominated February 18, 1919, and was elected at a special election April 1, 1919, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice George A. Cooke. He was then thirty-one years old and had had no previous judicial experience. A great many cases had accumulated by assignment to the Fourth District between the time of the resignation of Justice Cooke and the election of Justice Thompson. These cases together with those that have been regularly assigned to the district since his election have all been written and there are now no cases assigned to the Fourth District in which opinions have not been filed. During his two years' service he has written 142 opinions. He was the author of seventeen opinions that were filed yesterday.

At the time Justice Thompson made the announcement that he would be a candidate to succeed himself he said in part: "Two years ago this week the delegates to the Democratic convention for the Fourth Judicial District nominated me as one of the candidates for Justice of the Supreme Court and six weeks later the people honored me by election. The privilege of serving my state in that capacity at so early an age exceeded my highest ambitions and I have tried to show my appreciation of the confidence thus reposed in me by giving honest service. Whether I am given further opportunity to serve the people of my state in this position of trust rests with the voters of the Fourth Judicial District, but whatever their verdict, I shall never forget the honor they have placed in me."

Justice Thompson's record is found in my written opinions published in Volumes 828 to 296 of the printed reports of the Supreme Court. On this record and on this alone I ask for the continued confidence of the voters of the Fourth District.

FIRST CASE OF SLEEPING SICKNESS

The first death from sleeping sickness in Jacksonville was that of the Rev. A. A. Todd, who died yesterday. Mr. Todd was stricken with the malady two weeks ago and has been under treatment at Norbury sanatorium. In spite of every effort he grew steadily worse until death came. This mysterious disease is scattered throughout the entire state. It has not become epidemic but all precautions are being taken by health authorities to prevent its spread.

FORMER RESIDENT NOW PROMINENT IN LIMA, O.

Oscar A. Snyder, known to a number of the older citizens of Jacksonville, is now foreman in the Lima, O., locomotive works. A recent copy of the Lima News mentions the election of Mr. Snyder as president of the East Side Welfare association. This organization is expected to have a large part in civic affairs. Mr. Snyder is a son of Mrs. Frank C. Taylor of East State street.

A VALUABLE RELIC.

Looking over some old papers the other day, once the property of his father, T. M. Tomlinson was interested to find a copy of the New York Herald dated Saturday, April 15, 1865. The old paper, with the column ruled and gave all the details of the assassination of President Lincoln. The front page of the worn and torn paper is devoted wholly to the story of the president's sensational death and dispatches relating to Lee's army and the doing of Jefferson Davis. Naturally Mr. Tomlinson prize the relic very highly.

PARTITION SUIT FILED

Partition proceedings have been filed in the circuit court by E. E. Eter of Waverly, who is attorney for Minnie Scott Taylor et al. The suit is directed against Lizzie Campbell and involves land belonging to the estate of the late Julia Scott. Thru this bill it is sought to bring about a division of lots 142 in C. J. Salter's addition to Waverly.

REBUILDING STOCK YARDS.

Chicago & Alton carpenters are now at work rebuilding the Knoles stock yards near Henry street. The yards have been in bad condition for several years past and stockmen who ship from this point will appreciate having them put into good condition again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bridgman from northwest of the city attended the Flynn-Burnett wedding Tuesday afternoon.

THE MARIONETTES PLEASED LOCAL AUDIENCE

The coming of Lillian Owen's Marionettes was announced as a "unique event extraordinary" and such it proved to be. A Marionette program was given at the David Prince gymnasium at 3:30 o'clock especially for the benefit of students and another program in the evening at 8 o'clock. The attendance was large and a goodly sum was added to the Meredosia camp cottage fund of the Rotary club.

Publicity matter used in advance of this entertainment had given most people quite a clear idea of the development of puppets of earlier years up to the marionettes of the present. Nevertheless, a great deal of interest attached to the explanation of the use of puppets, given by Miss Owen, before the curtain was raised last night. Puppets were used in stage work several centuries ago and one feature of yesterday's program was the appearance of "Mimi," a 300 year old dancer. Marionettes be it understood, are operated with wires practically invisible, and the spoken words are by "puppeteers" men and women who are concealed from view. The spoken word corresponds exactly with the movements of the puppets and it takes real artistry to accomplish the successful combination of word and act.

Last night's program included the special dance by Mimi. Then came the story of Gentle Alice Brown from Bab's Ballads. These two features served as a curtain raiser for the presentation of Hynd Horn, a medieval romance which presented the characters of the Princess Jean, Hynd Horn, her lover, the old beggar man, the king, his chamberlain, the Pampous prince from a neighboring state, and his attendant. The puppets were costumed in the manner that accorded with the characters they represented, and the audience could not but be astonished at the life like presentation. The movements, the gestures, had all the marks of real life and the spoken words of the invisible actors gave completeness to the scenes.

The afternoon program had been especially designed for pupils of the public school, including Sambo and Jenny, his mule, the rabbits' quartet, Polly and her Pals, and the famous story of Jack and the Bean stalk, in three acts. While it was, as indicated, especially directed to boys and girls, it was just as entertaining for adults, and the hundreds of persons who saw it were genuinely enthusiastic.

Frank J. Heisl was chairman of the committee which arranged for the coming of the Marionettes and the members of the committee must have felt rewarded by the success of the entertainment and the various expressions of approval.

The Marionettes closed an engagement in St. Louis Monday night and from Jacksonville go to Chicago for an appearance at one of the well known city theaters.

JUST LIKE SPRING

DAYS ARE THESE
Even the "oldest" citizens agree that this is marvelous February weather. Yesterday the doors of many business houses were open just as if spring days were really at hand. A trip thru the residence section yesterday showed quite a number of people busy in their gardens. But the most convincing proof that spring has arrived in February was given Sunday by three lads who are usually found with a class in one of the Sunday schools.

They were absent, and when the teacher of the class looked them up yesterday, expecting to find that sickness had kept them at home. He was greatly surprised to learn that the aforesaid Sunday school scholars had yielded to temptation and been "out in the old swimming hole," last Sunday morning.

Khorrassanism

The story upon which the dramatic ritual of the Knights of Khorrassan is based is one of the most beautiful in literature. The inspiration came from Thomas Moore's immortal, oriental poetic fantasy, "Lalla Rookh." The scene is laid in a historic part of ancient Iran, Khorrassan—the name of which remains as a present-day province of Persia.

Khorrassanism, is paradise on earth. It is the goal of every pilgrim who drags his weary way over the desert of life. Khorrassan, the land of beauty and sunshine, the home of languorous pleasures of the fantastic East, entices you who are not already its votaries to enter its entrancing oasis, quaff the waters of Zem-zem, the only drink that nowadays has a "kick," and to join in the worship of clean pleasure and youth under its prophet.

Indeed every one should join at the first opportunity for it will make us all better members of the Knights of Pythias.

Next August the Imperial Palace will be in session at Chattanooga, Tenn., and it is the hope of the local Temple to be represented there with the drill team and a goodly number of members.

The good of this trip is twofold: the good one gets out of the national convention meeting and the fine scenery in and about historical Chattanooga.

Indeed, no one could select a better place for a weeks' vacation next summer than Chattanooga. Many bloody battles of the Civil War were fought in and about this point. Lookout mountains, Missionary Ridge and Chickamauga are points of interest to any one. To visit these historic places is to come away a better American.

PERSONALS
Lieut. Doc Magill (Drilling Brigands)—Eyes right.
Stice, (Breaking line)—Doc, Covie chick'n.
Peckham—What kind of a fellow is Earl Richardson?
Guyette: Well, he is one of those fellows who always runs for the stool when there is a piano to be moved.
Buhrman says that it does no good to scold the janitor about no fire of a morning. Yes it does Otto for that is one chance of getting warmed up.
Haley says there is always something broken about Christopher's Coupe. Strandberg says as a rule it is Christopher.
She—"Mother will not believe that I come here about my teeth so often."
Doc, Magill—"I shall send her a bill tomorrow."

The question that bothers some is, who answered the last telephone call. Ask Maurice Peckham or George Wheeler.

Pythianism In Minds of Public

Pythianism is very much in the public mind in Jacksonville these days, especially because of the "liveness" of the two local lodges and the further fact of the extensive improvements in the lodge quarters that are now almost completed. Ilderim temple of the D. O. K. K. also has its share of influence in this Pythian interest. The membership of Jacksonville lodge No. 152 and Favorite lodge No. 376 includes 718 men.

These two lodges have enrolled the best citizenship of Jacksonville and the surrounding territory. As road conditions have improved, people living outside of Jacksonville have come to a greater appreciation of the advantages of fraternity life and it is not an uncommon thing when there are nearly as many members present at a lodge session from the country as from the city. Jacksonville lodge was instituted July 1, 1886, and it was just about six years later that Favorite lodge No. 376 came into being, that is, in September, 1892.

Teach Good Citizenship.
Anyone at all familiar with the life in Jacksonville can testify to the good contribution made by the Pythian lodges. These organizations constantly teach the best principles of citizenship and inculcate those ideals on which real fraternity is founded. If the records of the various campaigns and drives made for different good causes during recent years were examined, it would be found that the Pythian lodges contributed their share to the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, Illinois college, the Near East and to other worthy while causes.

By action of the supreme lodge at Minneapolis last year, the age limit was reduced from 21 to 18 years. This was a splendid thing in that it gives the opportunity for boys in the formative years of their life to have the advantages of Pythian influences about them. The two local lodges have had more than the usual share in shaping the affairs of the higher lodges of the order. The late Charles A. Barnes was grand chancellor of Illinois and later became the supreme chancellor of the world. Millard F. Dunlap served a term as grand chancellor and for a period of years has been master of the exchequer of the state lodge. To John J. Reeve also belongs the honor of having served as grand chancellor, and he is now supreme representative from the state of Illinois.

The two lodges have joined enthusiastically in putting forward the cause of Pythianism and for nearly twenty years have occupied their present quarters in the Knolls, Tomlinson and Mason buildings on the north side of the public square. The membership of the lodges has grown steadily and it was on this account that the organizations some months ago decided that more space must be secured and negotiations were begun and concluded for taking over the second floors of the buildings and adding them to the quarters already maintained.

Club rooms are thus made available for the members of the two lodges and the temple, which are spacious and well lighted. The furnishings are of a kind which do credit to the organizations and Pythians here have lodge rooms that are equal in few cities, either by the Pythian or any other order. In fact, men familiar with K. of P. lodge rooms all over the state do not except Chicago in stating that the local lodges have the best.

The main auditorium on the third floor where lodge assemblies are held is 60 by 40 feet in the general dimensions. Very soon a suction fan, operated by electricity, is to be installed and this will insure perfect ventilation. As already mentioned, the library, lounge room, billiard room and other apartments that are especially for club purposes are located on the second floor. As indicated above, Ilderim Temple No. 62 of the D. O. K. K. has had its important part in the affairs of the two local lodges and have served constantly to increase the interest and enthusiasm of Knights of Pythias in their lodge affairs. The Temple was instituted here about twenty-three years ago and now has a membership of 375. This membership includes Pythians from Roodhouse, Beardstown, Greenville, Waverly, Virden and other cities in nearby counties.

About ten years ago the McCarty drill team was organized and its successful work was a matter in which all local Pythians took just pride. Recently this team was reorganized with Charles Reinhart as captain and C. B. Magill as first lieutenant. The members of the team are:

E. Clifford Strandberg, Bonnie Lee Stice, James Guyette, Carl Ahlquist, Raymond Eyrer, Paul Wilkinson, Walter Ahlquist, Emmet Miller, Arthur Reeve, Alexander Murray, Clarence Sway, Ivan Ingram, Chas. Padgett, John Bradfield, Leo E. Suiter, Alfred C. Smith, Wilbur Hawk, Chas. Read, Oscar L. Kennedy, Maurice Peckham.

Altho this team has been organized only a short time, effective work has been done with hard practice and the first appearance will be at the session next Tuesday night. When the supreme council is held at Chattanooga next August the new drill team will probably be heard from in a very satisfactory way.

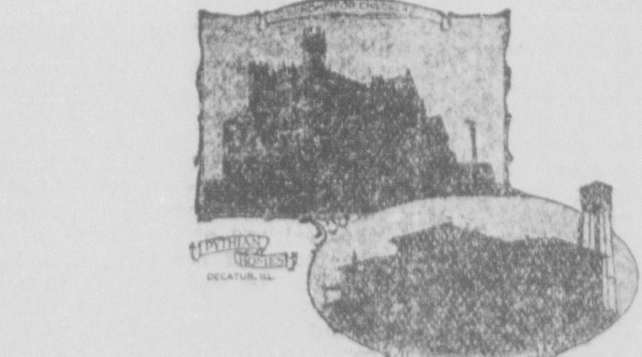

As before suggested, the betterments in lodge quarters have been made possible by a fine spirit of co-operation. Various members of the lodges have done nearly all of the actual work and in this way the cost of the improvements has been very greatly reduced. The booster committees who planned and carried out the improvements in connection with the trustees were made up as follows:

Jacksonville No. 152—George Wiseman, B. C. Lair, H. C. White, Favorite Lodge No. 376—S. G. Chumley, Jewell E. Scott, J. W. McCConnell.
Trustees of No. 152—George Wiseman, W. Barr Brown, James Guyette.

Trustees of No. 376—C. J. Rataichak, Chas. Godfrey, George F. Brown.
The improvement work was started Jan. 31 and will be completed by Saturday night in time for the three days' session. Honors in this improvement work go to S. G. Chumley as "head boss," and to 50 loyal Pythians. Some of this group worked for hours and others for days. Each noon since the work has been in progress dinner was served to the workers by C. J. Rataichak as chef. The men who did this work found it a pleasure for the best of good fellowship obtained and at no time was there a dissenting voice, the interest of each one was apparent. The list of those who worked in this way includes the following:

Geo. Wiseman, Ira Patterson, James Guyette, H. C. White, Carl Franz, Wm. Benson, T. M. Tomlinson, Chas. Curtis, S. G. Chumley, Jewell E. Scott, J. W. McCConnell, Lon Barrows, Geo. Spies, Jr., J. Edgar Martin, Chas. Walikin, Chas. Wolke, Wm. Wolke, Clarence McCarty, G. A. Sieber, Fred Jameson, Ivan Ingram, Lawrence Dye, Lee Stice, Walter Ward Tendick, Chas. Winterbottom, Chas. Rataichak, Charles Read, Charles Godfrey, George Brown, L. F. Jordan, Fred Mount, C. J. Johnson, Carl Faust, Chas. Padgett, Walter Ahlquist, Lester Haley, George Gruber, Carl Ahlquist, Oran Cook, John Godfrey, J. K. C. Pier son, Frank Bracewell, Newt Brannon, Arthur Conlee, J. F. Claus, F. P. Carter, Ollie Parker, Alfred Smith, Wm. Brady.

PYTHIAN HOME

Such an order as this would not be complete if it were not for the two homes at Decatur, Ill. Here is the greatest work we have to do for there is nothing nobler than the care, custody and education of the orphans of our deceased brothers, and also the taking care of aged Pythians.

We sometimes wonder if our membership appreciate this grand and noble work they are doing. We are sure that if it should be brought home to them they would understand what it means. There are some sixty children at present at the Orphan Home and they are given every care possible and are being reared in the right way—also at the home of the aged we have some twenty at this time who are given every care possible. The Pythian Homes are a monument to the fidelity and trust of the membership of this Domain and the work that is being done by these Homes is one that every member of the order may well be proud of.

To properly care for and maintain these Homes the Grand Lodge at its last session in Springfield levied an assessment of One Dollar on each member. This is payable on January 1, 1921, and each year thereafter.

"THE TIGER" A FINE LODGE PUBLICATION

The story of the development of Pythianism would not be complete without reference to "The Tiger," a now and then publication in the interest of the two Knights of Pythias lodges and Ilderim Temple. It was Feb. 12, 1917, that "Ilderim Dope Sheet" was published by H. Jay Rodgers, Ed. LaBoiteaux and Fred Hopper.

Jewell E. Scott, Publisher of "The Tiger."

Afterward the name was changed to "The Tiger" and for several years the appearance of this lodge paper has been due to the earnest efforts and continued lodge enthusiasm of Jewell E. Scott, as publisher. Mr. Scott, Mr. Scott, by the way, maintains his continued interest in lodge affairs to such an extent that his influence is of a most helpful kind.

PEORIA

Old El Medi No. 1 is still at the head of a class, sends word that the "Illinois Bokay Sunshine Special" is read for the trip to Chattanooga. All they are waiting for is the word from No. 62. Less we forget, here is an invitation to El Medi to be with us on the 22nd.

Plan for a trip to Lookout Mountains, next August.

BOOSTER COMMITTEE DOES GREAT WORK

The progress of Pythianism in Jacksonville since October 1, 1920 has been remarkable indeed. The improvement of Castle Hall and the addition of new club rooms on the second floor has not only been a wonderful step forward but has injected an enthusiastic spirit into the membership of the two lodges which alone is very gratifying.

The Booster Committee which had the management of the project in charge, outlined its plans with recommendations to the two lodges, Jacksonville Lodge No. 152 and Favorite Lodge No. 376 and has been well supported by the members. The improvement, which is well on the way to completion, consists of enlarging the lodge room by removal of a wall and folding doors, thus giving a floor space of 4 ft. by 60 ft. While on the second floor will be established a billiard room containing two pool tables, one billiard table and toilet. Also library, reading room and telephone booth. On the whole this makes a very attractive and useful improvement.

Further, the location of the lodge quarters is the best in the city, for it is of easy access and also affords a splendid view as well as plenty of sunlight for the club rooms.

The spirit in which the improvements are being carried on is remarkable. Some twenty members of the two lodges have given their time and labor without pay in order that the improvement might be made. When the job is completed, we shall try and give the names of all who took part.

The membership of the two lodges have had a remarkable growth since October 1st last, having taken into the membership upwards of one hundred and twenty-five.

The Booster Committee is as follows:

Jacksonville Lodge No. 152.
George Wiseman, B. C. Lair, H. C. White.
Favorite Lodge No. 376.
S. G. Chumley, Jewell E. Scott, J. W. McCConnell.

Trustees No. 152.

Trustees No. 376.

VOTARIES OF THE DESERT.

Word has come to our ear that an important caravan is to invade the Kingdom of Khorrassan at an early date as has been his custom in days of yore! In order that the occasion will be one long to be remembered it is up to you as a Votary of the Kingdom, to lend your assistance by giving your presence and by bringing us a live sacrifice (Two Iron Wheels) for our altar—Therefore:

I, His Highness, do command that all Votaries of Ilderim Temple No. 62, do gather at Castle Hall, Tuesday evening, February 22, 1921, at 5:30 p. m. to witness our mid-winter ceremonial. INCOME TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

Many inquiries from newly weds as to the amount of taxable income for the year 1920 are received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. In many cases both parties were employed up to the wedding date and the point on which advice is sought is whether the joint income must be shown. The ruling of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is that if they were married on or before December 31, 1920, a return must be made of their combined income if it equaled or exceeded $2,000.

Separate returns of income of each or a return of their combined income may be filed. If the net income of husband or wife exceeded $5,000, separate returns should be filed for the purpose of correctly computing the surtax which applies only to income in excess of that amount.

The newly weds are entitled to to $2,000 exemption plus the additional $200 for each dependent under 18 years of age or who is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. This exemption may be divided in any proportion in separate returns of husband and wife if filed that way.

"And remember that March 15, 1921, is the final date for filing returns and payment of one-fourth of the amount of income tax due" is the admonition of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

MEREDOSIA SCHOOL TAKES EXCEPTION

Assistant Principal Says Statement About Basketball Game Not in Accordance With Facts.

Fletcher Mathers assistant principal writes taking exception to the article which appeared in the Journal recently regarding the game between independent teams of Meredosia and Chapin.

It would seem that the faculty or some one in authority in the schools of this section should take charge of athletic events and see to the sending in of scores to newspapers if they want the publicity.

A number of times recently reports have been made to the Journal of sporting events in adjacent towns which later have had to be corrected. The Journal wants to be fair with everybody and also wishes to publish correctly all of the sporting news in this section of the state. The sporting editor of the Journal would suggest that in the future the principal or assistant principal of the schools send in signed reports in order that the publication of incorrect reports may be avoided. This also will mean a saving of valuable space for news that is of value to the general public. The letter from Mr. Mathers is given hereunder.

Meredosia, Ill., 2-12-'21.
Editor Journal,
Jacksonville, Ill.,
Dear Sir:

The correction of the account of basketball game between the Meredosia and Chapin Independents, which appeared in the Journal of Feb. 12, and signed "Meredosia High School Basketball Team," does not represent the feelings of the faculty and the team of the Meredosia High school. In our contests with Chapin boys, we have always found them good sports and sincerely wish to retain their esteem and good will.

Signed,
Fletcher Mathers

LOCAL MINISTER
CLOSES LIFE WORK

Dr. A. A. Todd Died Tuesday Morning Following Two Weeks Illness—Burial Will Be at Alton.

The death of Dr. A. A. Todd, pastor of the First Baptist church, came as a shock yesterday to many Jacksonville people. The death of this well known minister took place at 7:10 o'clock Tuesday morning at Maplewood Sanatorium, where he had been ill for a two weeks period from the disease known as sleeping sickness. It was known to friends of Rev. Mr. Todd that he was not strong, though they little thought that his condition would so speedily result in his death.

Dr. Todd began his work as pastor of the Baptist church in this city in September, 1916, and his devotion to the interests of the church and to the broad cause of Christianity has been unflinching. The kindness of his spirit gave him friendship and influence outside his immediate church and there were many people in Jacksonville who thus came to know and appreciate his worth.

The deceased had for years shown such an interest in the affairs of the Baptist denomination and used such judgment in the general affairs of the church, that he was made a member of the executive board of the state convention. Dr. Todd came to Jacksonville from St. Louis and in that city, as here, he was esteemed as a man of the finest Christian character and because of the fine spirit of friendship and service that dominated his daily life.

Dr. Todd was born July 6, 1870, in Calaway county, Mo. When he was a boy the family home was changed to St. Louis where he spent his youth and boyhood. He was a member at that time of the Water Tower Baptist church and after attending the public schools of St. Louis was a student at La Grange college in Missouri, and Shurtleff college at Alton. Later he graduated from the Ewing Baptist Theological seminary and entered upon his pastoral work at Hunter Hill. Subsequently he served churches in Shelbyville, Ewing, Mt. Vernon and St. Louis, before taking up his work here.

It was in Alton that the deceased minister was married to Miss Daisy Rice of that city. Mr. Todd is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Todd, and one sister, Mrs. Evangeline of St. Louis, a brother, Hugo, living in Chicago and his adopted daughter, Miss Margaret of this city.

Dr. Todd was president of the Jacksonville Ministerial association and the funeral services at the Baptist church at 9:30 o'clock this morning will be in charge of the association and Rev. M. L. Pontus. The funeral will leave Jacksonville for Alton over the C. & A. at 10:50, and interment will be in that city.

MAN WAS DEFENDED
BY ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Moultrie County Resident was Arrested for Stealing Negroes—Lincoln Secured Acquittal.

CHANPAIGN, Ill.—As the 112th birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln approaches there is one Illinois man who can observe the day as few others. It is William P. McGuire of Moultrie county, now 83 years of age. He was defended by Lincoln when tried on a charge of stealing negroes, and was acquitted.

Mr. McGuire was at the time only fourteen years old, but he recalls vividly today the appearance of Lincoln, the trial judge, the other lawyers and the witnesses.

General Matson, living at Brushy Fork, eight miles from Oakland, near the present town of Newman, in Douglas county, had brought slaves to Illinois, but the sentiment against slavery was growing in his community.

He had a negro family composed of Toy, his wife and four children. Tony learned that he and his family were to be sent back to Kentucky and sold as slaves.

He went to Madison Ashmore one night and told him this. Ashmore went to Dr. Hiram Rutherford and a plan for the escape of the negroes from the custody of Madison Ashmore. Both Ashmore and Dr. Rutherford were pioneers, prominent citizens and avowed abolitionists.

Young McGuire was in the employ of Ashmore. He was present when Tony told his story and heard the interview. Next night McGuire was told to take a wagon and go to Brushy Fork. There he was told, some people would get in the wagon and he was instructed he must not speak to them. He did just as he was directed. He knew who the people were, but he could not swear from anything he heard or saw that they were runaway negroes.

When they reached Oakland the negroes were concealed in an out building where they were kept several days. It was young McGuire's business to carry food to them.

It was not long before General Matson knew who became of his negroes. The arrest of McGuire and his employer followed.

Dr. Rutherford employed Abraham Lincoln to defend McGuire. Lincoln was then 34 or 35.

Presentation of evidence did not take long. The question which stood out was whether there had been a violation of any Illinois law in moving the negroes.

Lincoln occupied two hours with his argument. He based it upon the ordinance of 1787 by which Virginia ceded the north-west territory to the United States, providing that slavery should not exist in this territory.

Judge Harlan decided slavery did not exist in Illinois. The effect of this was to acquit all persons who had aided in the escape of negroes.

"All That I Am,"

said Lincoln, "and all that I ever hope to be, I owe to my angel Mother!" It was a beautiful tribute to a mother's love and guidance. With characteristic modesty, Lincoln refused to take due credit to himself.

There was a far more powerful influence than his Mother forcing Lincoln to the front: his invincible determination to get out of the rut, his indomitable will to BE somebody. The fact that today millions of his countrymen are revering his memory, show how well he succeeded.

A savings account, even if the salary be very small, coupled with just a tiny fibre of the Lincolnian spirit to succeed, will put any man on the high road to Prosperity.

SPECIAL MEETINGS AT WHITE HALL CHURCH

Series of Revival Services at the Christian Church. Fruitful of Results — J. C. Spencer May be Candidate for Mayor — Other White Hall Items.

White Hall, Feb. 14.—The series of special meetings in the Christian church closed Sunday night, after being in progress three weeks, and the result met the expectations of the pastor, Rev. E. C. Lucas, there being about a dozen additions to the church. The services were in charge of Rev. C. E. French of Virginia, Ill., who returned Sunday night to his charge, and Rev. Lucas will return the engagement by conducting a like series for Rev. French, beginning on the 22nd inst., following which Rev. Lucas will return and take up anew his work with the Boy Scouts, which has been languishing. Next Sunday night the Knights of Pythias will attend the Christian church in a body to hear an anniversary sermon by Rev. Lucas.

Hon. Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, will address the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association to be held on Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

J. A. McVey, foreman of the plant of the Federal Ice Refrigerating Co., at Roodhouse, was in town last week, and explained that the first cake of commercial ice from the spring water is to be sold for the benefit of the Baptist church, and that in the center will be frozen the church emblem. One bid of one hundred dollars has already been offered, and when the auction comes off this figure will at least be maintained. An eight-inch main line being laid this week to connect the spring water with the C. & A. watering station at Roodhouse. As soon as the pipe lines are thoroughly cleansed of the old water and receive the O. K. of the state authorities, the water will be made available for household and drinking purposes by proclamation of Mayor D. F. King.

Since Guy Lowenstein declines to permit the use of his name in connection with the mayoralty, which was suggested in these columns a short time ago, sentiment has been crystallizing in favor of J. C. Spencer, and he is proving a general favorite. The name of one woman, Mrs. P. B. Fry, has been mentioned, but it is not believed that she will permit the use of her name. Mayor F. N. McLaren states emphatically that he will not entertain any idea or suggestion of making the race again. Another name, if it is allowed to get well under way, will prove formidable, and that is H. W. Roodhouse, who is a late addition to the list of prospectives.

"Woodman, spare that tree," was not uttered in a way nor at a time to save five huge maple trees at the southwest corner of Whiteside Park, and indignation meetings, threats of abolishing the park board and any other drastic measure of revenge that might suggest itself have met the park board. All of which was carried out plans practically adopted long ago for providing parking space all around the park, but which was not carried out at this point until the trees had been damaged by fire. A full statement from the park board, consisting of Robert C. Boehm and T. J. Grant, there being a vacancy, would be very interesting at this time. The mayor is standing by the park board.

A Masonic school of instruction will be held at Roodhouse this week and at White Hall next week. The fraternity at both places is enlisting a very large number of new members at this time, which is true of other secret orders here and elsewhere.

W. E. Morrissey has purchased a business building and residence property at Sorento, Illinois, and will locate there in April to engage in the notion business. New coal mines are to be opened in that locality this year and next, said to be the property of the American Locomotive Works that is starting operations on the erection of an immense new plant near Granite City.

Raymond B. Pearce visited numerous points last week on a vacation tour, meeting with people of local concern. At Farmer City he was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. P. H. Cox, formerly Miss Louella Carr of White Hall, who has gone to California to remain indefinitely, accompanying her brother-in-law, J. Henry Cox, of LaSalle, a leading capitalist of LaSalle county, who with his wife formerly Miss Irene Carr, now make their home at Los Angeles. At Bloomington he called on Chas. E. Pearce of Armour & Co., and Elmer German of the Bulletin, the latter stating that Bill Eades, formerly of the Jacksonville Journal and Bloomington Bulletin, is connected with the Marion, Ohio Star, and he reported the front-porch speeches and most of the conferences of President-elect Harding last fall. At St. Louis he was the guest of J. W. Carr, the man who originated the familiar twist tobacco, and who has charge of the immense twist plant of the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Co. Mr. Carr has some 1,200 employees under him at St. Louis, and has been establishing twist plants down in Kentucky, to where Pearce extended his travels via Cincinnati, and was entertained at the beautiful country home of B. C. Gaines near Burlington, visiting the Rookwood pottery and other points of interest in Cincinnati, and rounding out the final lap of the tour with Herman Holtman of the International Steel & Iron Co., of Evansville, Ind.

COOPERATIVE WORK IS GREATEST NEED

Only Way Thru Which Economic Improvement Can Come — Make Banking and Credit System Serve American People.

Cleveland, O., — By the A. P. — Improvement in economic conditions, and economic justice must be secured thru two methods; political action and independent cooperative activities and both are essential and interdependent. Benjamin C. Marsh, of Washington, told the All-American Cooperative Congress in session here.

"The program of the People's Reconstruction League will save the American people who work with hand or brain six billion dollars a year for many years to come, an average of $57 per capita, or $285 for a family of five," said Mr. Marsh. "This program includes:

"(1) Prompt restriction of the railroads to unified government operation which will save the American people at least $1-500,000,000 a year.

"(2) Legislation to control the meat packing industry which will save the American people at least $20,000,000 a year. The desperate fight now on in Congress to secure packer control legislation vitally affects every producer of live stock and every consumer of foodstuffs in the country. It is a clear case of the American people versus the packers. The packers are using every device to justify any member of Congress in opposing the enactment of the Gronna bill passed by the senate before the present session of Congress adjourns on March 4th.

"(3) Taxation of Privilege instead of poverty, which will save the American people at least $3,000,000,000 a year. A high and rapidly progressive tax upon incomes, estates and excess profits should be retained until the full money cost of the war has been paid.

"(4) Making our banking and credit system serve the American people. This will save the American people at least $500,000,000 a year. The House should promptly adopt the Resolution introduced by Congressman Baer of North Dakota calling for an investigation by the House Committee on Banking and Currency of the charge that a little group of international bankers working thru the Federal reserve system control money and credit and paralyze these legitimate commerce and industry. When the American people know these facts Congress will enact legislation to make our banking and credit system really serve the people.

"(5) Control of natural resources which will save the American people at least $750,000,000 a year.

"(6) Universal compulsory military training must be defeated which will save the American people scores of millions of dollars in taxes."

TROUBLES OVER SAYS COAL MINER

O'Donnell Says He Has Biggest Appetite He Has Had in Years — Praises Tanlac.

John C. O'Donnell, 516 Maple Ave., Springfield, Ill., a coal miner employed by the Peerless Coal Co., and a member of United Mine Workers, Local 691, is still another who has cause to be glad he gave Tanlac an honest trial. Mr. O'Donnell says:

"I never did get the bad effects of the 'flu' over until I took Tanlac. All last year I kept going down hill. I had no appetite to speak of and what I ate gave me a lot of trouble—sometimes it seemed like so much lead in my stomach.

"What with swimming in my head that came on me when I stooped over, and a smothering feeling like I was about to draw my last breath, I had to knock off work at times. Some days I didn't have strength enough to use my pick and all the blood seemed to go out of my face and my skin was yellow like I had jaundice.

"It takes a mighty good medicine to bring a man up from the fix I was in but that is what Tanlac did. I'm a hale and hearty man today and don't have to lose an hour from work.

"I haven't had such an appetite in years and indigestion is a stranger to me now. I have gained ten pounds in weight and feel so good that I want everybody to know about Tanlac. It certainly does the work."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly, and leading drug store in all cities.—Adv.

28 Idle Hens Now Lay 27 Eggs A Day

And This Was in Cold Winter Weather. Plan is Simple.

"I fed Don Sung to my 28 hens that were not laying. But they are laying now. I receive as high as 27 eggs a day and never less than 22."—Mrs. Jennie Davidson, Yates Center, Kan.

Mrs. Davidson wrote this letter in February. Figure her profit on two dozen eggs a day from hens that "wouldn't lay." We'll make you the same offer we made her. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

You can obtain Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war-tax) for a package by mail. Currell-Dugger Co., 27 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"In November, 1916, I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep and had constant pain in my right lung and under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. Finally the doctors had me change climate and live outdoors, but didn't improve.

"Then I came home and started on Milks Emulsion. Thank God I did, as it did me a lot of good right from the start, loosening up the coal dust in my right lung. In a few weeks my lungs were free, I could sleep like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health."—G. H. Bruno, 6th Ave. and No. 13th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust-filled air develop the same trouble that Mr. Bruno had. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it?

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural body action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

What is

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Simply and tersely stated, MOTHER'S FRIEND is just exactly what the name implies—a friend and help to mothers.

It has been made and sold for more than half a century. If it did not possess the value claimed for it, MOTHER'S FRIEND could not possibly have remained on the market. For only that which is really worth while and beneficial can survive.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

● DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR

"Dear Sir: I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about MOTHER'S FRIEND. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick and only sick about ten or fifteen minutes. Any mother can write me and I will only be too glad to give her advice. Yours truly,"

ORDER WOULD LIMIT
MILITARY PUNISHMENT

Reduction in Number of Dishonorable Discharges From Army Expected From Order Now Effective—Followed Wide Agitation Over Court Martial Penalties.

Washington.—Reduction in the number of dishonorable discharges from the army and a grading down in the severity of court-martial sentences are expected by the judge advocate general's department to result from an executive order limiting military peace time punishment which went into effect recently. The order follows wide agitation over court-martial penalties during the war period.

A memorandum from the President attached to the order directs that maximum punishment and dishonorable discharges be imposed only in aggravated cases. This is expected to have more effect in reducing penalties, it was stated, than the actual order, which reduces punishments for 21 different offenses under the military code.

The old maximum of 18 months confinement for desertion by men less than one year in service, has been reduced to one year, and in cases of more than 6 months' service, from 2 1/2 years to two years. The period of absence for which desertion penalties can be imposed is increased from 30 to 60 days.

The maximum penalty for fraudulent enlistment has been reduced from one year's imprisonment to six months. The greatest reduction of maximum confinement is for assault without deadly weapons, which was 5 years, reduced to one year. The maximum where weapons are used still is 5 years.

The maximum for obtaining under false pretenses money or property valued at $50 or more is reduced from 5 years to 3 years.

"The executive order will not result in a radical reduction of penalties," Colonel C. A. Keger, acting judge advocate declared. "Punishments for offenses in the army have been based since 1914 on a consensus of those fixed by different state laws for similar civil offenses. The executive order reduces maximum penalties for such offenses as fraudulent enlistment, desertion and other peculiarly military in nature, but maximum penalties seldom have been awarded for these offenses."

"The President's memorandum calling attention to the articles of war which provide for a grading down from maximum penalties where cases are not aggravated probably will have more effect in lightening punishments than the reductions which he actually orders. His memorandum however, but stresses what is already a part of military law."

Since 1890 the President has been authorized by Congress to fix the limit of military punishment by executive order, and several such orders have been issued from time to time by different Presidents.

NECESSITY OF MINERAL FOOD FOR DOMESTIC ANIMALS

(By B. E. Powell)
The necessity for an abundant supply of mineral food for domestic animals is being recognized as never before. Many diseases such as abortion, paralysis of the hind leg in hogs, and malnutrition resulting in positive emaciation, have been cured by a diet which included plenty of minerals. A. J. Peters, Chief Veterinarian of Springfield, Ill., recently said:

"The need of animals for mineral matter is more urgent than the average person suspects who has not had sufficient experience to note the value that can be derived by the addition to the ordinary ration of minerals."

"My attention was first attracted to the value of minerals when conducting a large feeding plant for hogs. These animals were kept in confinement from the time they arrived at the feeding plant until ready to be shipped to the market, and it was found that in order to keep these animals in healthy condition and to avoid the loss of the phosphorus content of the body, it was absolutely necessary that mineral feeds be added to their ration, and it may be surprising to those who have not kept an accurate account of the minerals needed, that the average hog required four pounds of mineral a week."

"It was noticed that when the animals were not supplied that such diseases as paralysis of the left hind limb were present; also that the slipping of the animal on the cement floor caused numerous fractures. As soon as the mineral was supplied this trouble would cease."

"It was also observed that many animals would be affected spontaneously with what was commonly called by the attendant St. Vitus dance. This would also be speedily corrected when minerals were supplied to the amount stated above, and in order to avoid any of these losses, we supplied this mineral to the animals in self-feeders where they had access to it at all times."

"This experience has induced me to use minerals in cattle practice for the last twelve or more years. It is one of the best adjuncts to increase the milk ration and to keep the milk flow constant without fluctuation. I realized that the milk contained a large per cent of mineral and that by supplying minerals to the cow, the equilibrium was maintained. This was especially noticeable in the cattle that were trying to compete for a record. Whenever the minerals were supplied, the average milk production was maintained normally. Not only did I use minerals to great advantage for the production of milk but for the building up of animals that have aborted, with most gratifying results."

In these herds when abortion appeared, they were placed on this mineral food at least twice a day and it was observed that it took about twelve weeks to bring about the mineral equilibrium in the body of the animal. When the mineral equilibrium had been established these animals did not abort; and strange to say, where this food was used very few animals became sterile, and when it was used continuously no more trouble was experienced."

"The need of this same mineral feed is indicated in the production of eggs and also in preventing the disease in poultry which is called among chicken fanciers "going light." In many flocks where this mineral has been fed, even to chickens affected with this trouble in the earlier stages, they have made a complete recovery."

"I have induced many veterinarians to use this mineral in the case of horses that were convalescing from an attack of influenza, pneumonia, or emaciation. In fact its need is indicated in every case where the animal showed symptoms of recovery."

"I have prescribed it in every case where animals seem to be suffering from some form of malnutrition, especially in cases where the animals show that they have not shed their coat properly. When these animals are placed on the ration of minerals, it is surprising what a rapidity they show in improvement. "I may be termed a fanatic on the use of minerals but I also believe their need is indicated in every case of surgery or open wounds."

As to the special minerals fed, Dr. Peters advocates phosphorus, calcium, magnesium, and ground bone, together with sulphur and iron as the basis of the minerals used."

Peugeot was a schoolmaster before the war and joined the army as a corporal. He was shot by a Uhlán patrol 12 kilometers from the German frontier and 30 hours before the declaration of war.

In France, pigeons which performed distinguished service, or showed unusual courage in the line of duty during the World War, were awarded the Croix de Guerre or the Croix Militaire. Diplomas with the citations were issued, and kept at the headquarters of the French Pigeon Service and because the war birds could not wear medals on their breasts special bands with the colors of the decorations, were made for their legs.

INSISTENT DEMAND FOR CORRECT ENGLISH

Urbana, Ill.—The demand for correct English, whatever its merits or significance, may properly be described as universal and insistent. Professor H. G. Paul of the University of Illinois, says in a bulletin issued today. "It proceeds not merely from the professional classes but from the community as a whole," added the English department professor.

"Large number of pupils who do not possess a genuine familiarity with the elementary facts of English grammar are regularly graduated from the high schools of the state."

Frank Hull was added to the list of visitors from Waverly yesterday.

B. H. Adams of Louisiana, Mo., spent Tuesday in the city visiting friends.

Men who smoke

will see a quick, conspicuous change

Tobacco stains the film-coat on the teeth. So men who smoke will see a real change quickly. But millions of teeth have that same film-coat with a user stain.

Children's teeth are most affected by the film. Young teeth seem most subject to decay. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be daily applied from the time the first tooth appears. Otherwise, decay is almost certain.

Pepsodent brings to women whiter, rettier teeth. But that means cleaner teeth and safer. The luster comes from constant film removal and the high polish given to the teeth.

We Invite You
To see how really clean teeth shine

Your teeth are coated with a film. When fresh the film is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. Later it forms a cloudy coat. It enters crevices and stays. It dims the teeth, and now we know that it causes most tooth troubles.

There is now a way to end it. This week your druggist, if you ask, will give you a 10-Day Tube. Get it and see what it does for your teeth. Learn what film removal means.

Old ways don't end it

Old ways of brushing do not end film. Millions of people know that. Teeth discolor and decay despite the daily care.

The reason lies in film. It clings and hides, and very few escape its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing—some have grown alarming. And all because we knew no way to daily fight the film.

A new dental era

Dental science has for years studied to combat film. Ways have now been found to do it. Able authorities have proved those methods by many careful tests. Now leading dentists everywhere are urging their daily use.

These methods have been combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Millions of people have come to employ it. You can see the results wherever you look—in glistening teeth, in teeth you envy, maybe.

A new dental era has begun, due to these discoveries. And these are benefits everyone should share. So you are urged to let this 10-Day Tube show what Pepsodent can do.

Brings five effects

Pepsodent brings five distinct effects. All are apparent, some are quick. A few days' use will leave no doubt about them. And a little book will tell you what each one means to you.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling.

The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied at once. This is to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Every application brings the Pepsodent effects. Together they mean tooth protection like you never had before.

Watch these effects. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Compare your teeth now with your teeth in ten days. Then judge this new-day method by what you see and feel and know.

This Radiator contains the honeycomb core.

Experience has demonstrated the principle of this core as the best for perfect radiation. This is the "heart" of the radiator and upon its construction and efficiency depend the satisfactory operation of the car. The shape of the cells adds about 33 1-3 per cent more radiating surface than on other types.

Direct radiation is the strong point of radiators and there is no part of the core which is not utilized for the purpose intended. The enforced passage of the water from top to lower tank in a thin sheet, affords ample radiating surface. The construction of the cells retards the flow sufficiently to permit thorough cooling of the water.

OLD SOLDIER WRITES WAR REMINISCENCES

Henry Cornwell of Atwater, Ill., Gives Interesting Facts in Letters.

The Journal is in receipt of two letters written by Henry Cornwell of Atwater, Ill., who served in the 101st regiment. The writer is now past seventy-six years of age and is just learning to use a typewriter. He gives some interesting stories about army days and no doubt his letters will be read by many of his former comrades and others with interest. The letters appear below:

Atwater, Ill.,
Feb. 10, 1921.

To the Jacksonville
Daily Journal,
Jacksonville, Ill.
Dear Sirs:-

A month or so ago I received a copy of the Journal of Dec. 27, 1920, in which you had inserted a letter that I had written to Mr. C. N. Wyatt of your city, which was all correct except the spelling of my name. By referring to the company's register which Capt. G. W. Fanning has, you will see that it is Henry Cornwell. Well, for practice on my typewriter, as I have just commenced to try to manipulate it, I don't think that after a man has started to climb his 77th rung in the ladder of time that there need be very much expected of him. If I had thought of you putting it in your paper I would have tried to have written it a little differently, but that is all right just the same.

Well, I am going to try to tell you about a little incident that happened up there in Camp Duncan when the officers were trying to put the army red tape as we used to call it. One night as it happened there was a young Swede that belonged to Co., A. John B. Lasage's Company.

Well this young Swede was detailed to camp guard and when put on his post by the corporal and given his instructions. The instructions in the main was the countersign, the corporal told the young Swede that the countersign was Waverly and that he must not let any one pass unless they said the word Waverly. It was the rules for the officer of the day to make what they called the grand rounds at a certain hour of the night. Well, along about midnight the officer of the day came to this young Swede. The young Swede with fixed bayonets presented towards the officer, said: "Halt, who comes there? You say Waverly, or by dams I shoot!" During the remainder of the war that poor boy was known by the name of "By Dams I Shoot." Oh, yes, those days were some days for red tape in Old Jacksonville, but as the years passed we didn't find it as hard to forget them as it was to learn them. I remember one time after we had crossed the river at Savannah, Ga., into South Carolina, it was a cold drizzly day and we had strict orders to not shoot anything unless it was a rebel, and I suppose then we might have been justified to shoot twice. But late in the evening the Colonel was riding in front of the wigwag, and looking over the brow of the hill and he saw two hogs trying to make their getaway so he turned in his saddle and looked at me and said, "Henry, did you see them?" pointing in the proper direction of course. So I took it for granted that the Colonel was hungry and that it was all right and of course he got his share.

HENRY CORNWELL,
Atwater, Ill.,
Feb. 9th, 1921.

To the Jacksonville
Daily Journal,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sirs:-

I have often wondered if any of the old 101st boys ever told you about the rats that we found down at Cairo, Ill., in 1862? Well, I had often heard of rats before, but until then I had failed to see so many. If you don't care I will try to tell you a little something about our experience. We went into camp in Camp Duncan in the fair ground in Jacksonville on Monday, July 15, 1862, and remained there until some time in October, and went from there to Cairo, Ill., which is on the west bank of the Ohio river and a mile north of the Mississippi river. The government's barracks were just south of Cairo in the bottom on a nice level piece of land lying between the foot of the hill and a levee. The barracks were built in a L shape with the bottom of the L to the west. In this L was the parade ground that we used for drilling and inspection. The main part of the building ran east and west, and between the building which we called Quarters, and the cook shed was an alley, some 16 feet wide, and under the eaves of the Quarters was a box made out of 2-2 by 12 and buried in the ground as a trough to carry off the surplus water.

Well, I have started in to tell you something about the rats at Cairo at that time. There were just lots of them, millions, I guess, for I do believe that if I had started to count them I would be on the job today, for many a night us boys would light torches made out of old barrel staves and place an empty barrel at the mouth of the gutter that was under the eaves, then start down the alley and run the rats in the gutter and by the time we had a 100 we would tip the barrel up and have at least one half bushel of rats coming out going in the levee.

Just south of this levee was a row of what we called sinks which were about 12 by 16 feet, set over a pit about 8 feet deep. There had been quite a lot of rain and filled those pits full level to the top of the ground, and one of those buildings had been moved away during the day. We were out there with our torches chasing the rats and having lots of fun and finally a young soldier by the name of Clay Sinclair fell in to this unprotected hole and would have drowned if we had not got him out. Poor boy, he had to go to the Ohio river and bathe himself for a good half hour. Pitching horse shoes and chasing rats was our principal sport, but occasionally at night we would have to go down to the wharf to pay our respects to a big H. H. D. of tobacco of the long green variety.

Well, I have gotten too old and tremble to write with a pen or pencil any more and now I am trying to learn to write on a typewriter. This is the first letter that I have tried to write to a paper, and now it is up to you as to what you want to do with it. I am,

Very truly yours,
HENRY CORNWELL,
R. F. D., 45, Box 7,
Atwater, Ill.

"It Pays" to "Pay Promptly"

The person who pays obligations promptly, establishes a reputation for integrity that commands the confidence of friends and business people. Time was, when it was a common practice with certain people to let bills drag for months and months. Today, the situation is different. Worth while people are paying their bills promptly. Putting them off from month to month is no longer customary—the Merchants do not permit, or sanction it.

No man today will boast of the account he pays "Whenever he feels like it." No group of men will smile with the one who speaks proudly of the money he owes, and which is overdue. This healthier public sentiment is largely the result of the united and intelligent action of the Retail Merchants, not only of Jacksonville but of every other progressive city in the country.

Your Credit Is Never Standing Still

Practically every business place in Jacksonville has your credit standing at its finger tips. You are rated after the plan on which businesses are rated. Your rating is either good, medium or bad. The more promptly you pay your bills, the better your credit grows; the less promptly you pay your bills, the worse your credit grows. This rating follows you to Jacksonville, and follows you when you leave Jacksonville.

What Is Credit

and

How Can I Establish Credit?

CREDIT is the faith man has in the integrity of his fellowman. It buys more on the open market in the World today than all the gold in existence. CREDIT is more valuable than gold.

To Establish Credit

Pay your bills promptly.
Spend wisely, less than you earn.
Invest in reliable securities and reliable merchandise
Carry Life Insurance and a Bank Account.
Save some money each week, or month.

Today Is "Pay Your Bills Promptly" Day of

"Pay Up" Week

Every Merchant of Jacksonville urges you to pay your bills promptly, so that you may "Hold Up Your Head, and Look Every Man in the Eye." Think it over; ACT AT ONCE.

How the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Fulfills Its Social Obligations

THERE are people in the world—though we believe that they are greatly in the minority—who still consider that smallness is a merit, that greatness is a shame, that mediocrity is commendable, and that commercial success is a crime.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that without great commercial enterprises a nation is a dead nation; that great commercial enterprises must be efficient in service to be successful, and that this efficiency means more to the nation than the success means to the organizers of the enterprise.

The Standard Oil Company believes that a great commercial enterprise, to be successful under existing conditions, must contribute to: (1) Greater efficiency in the production of wealth; (2) Greater justice in the distribution of wealth; (3) Greater wisdom in the consumption of wealth.

(1) Greater efficiency in production: Among other notable improvements in the refining of petroleum, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has contributed the Burton process. This process greatly increases the percentage of gasoline derivable from crude oil.

(2) Greater justice in the distribution of wealth: The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) cites the organization of its Company, its liberal policy toward employees—including its annuity system benefitting retired workers; its fairness to competitors—in maintaining open prices and never deviating from them; to customers—by bringing necessary petroleum products to them with the utmost economy.

(3) Greater wisdom in consumption of wealth: The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) not only recognizes its obligation to conserve petroleum and petroleum products to the end that no waste occur, but it maintains a staff of experts, ever at the service of its patrons, to instruct them in the efficient and economical use of the products manufactured by the Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is committed to a policy of creative leadership, and because of its loyalty to the ideals outlined above, it is today of signal service to hundreds of thousands of people in ten very important Middle Western States.
